

Adoption / Lease Application

Name: _____ Date: _____

Are you applying to adopt _____ Or lease _____

Considerations Before you begin completing this form, please note that any incomplete application, including failure to submit requested photos, will not be considered.

Before you submit your application, have you thoroughly thought about the expense of owning/leasing a horse? Below are some cost examples associated with horse ownership. We have found that a typical 1,000 lb. equine costs about $4,000 minimum per year to own.

☐ $250 - $300 monthly: Grain and hay with additional costs for full or part boarding ☐ $70 - $100: Hooves shod every 6 weeks ☐ $4 - $12: Wormer every 6 weeks ☐ $300+: Annual vet visits, vaccinations, Coggins test ☐ $125+: Annual teeth floating ☐ At least 1 - 2 hours each day to feed, clean stalls/pasture, and grooming if you are part boarding or keeping the horse on your own property ☐ Miscellaneous expenses such as tack, grooming items, and fly spray ☐ Funds for any emergency such as colic hospitalization or tendon / ligament injuries ranging from $1,000 - $3,000+

If the horse becomes ill and requires medical attention, this can range from a simple vet call and exam for $100 or could be in the thousands such as colic surgery.

Our goal is to adopt/lease each horse into a home where its emotional, social, and medical needs will be met and where it will be happy, safe, and loved.

What will you do with your adopted horse should the horse become unsound or unfit for riding?

If you do not intend on keeping the ADOPTED (does not include leasing) horse for its lifetime, even if it becomes unsound for riding, please do not fill out this application. Our goal is to find good, forever homes for the horse.
